Alma Mater

Come, schoolmates, all stand together and wave your banners high.
Loyally we will support her, old Catawissa High

Lift up your voices loud, clear, and strong
With three cheers for High School, loud and long. Praise your
Alma Mater with this song.
May we all cherish her as the years roll by.
Be always ready to support old, C. H. S.

In all our games win or lose we'll show our honor bright
The old Red and Black we will cherish, We'll always do the right.

Lift up your voices loud, clear, and strong
With three cheers for High School, loud and long. Praise your
Alma Mater with this song.
May we all cherish her as the years roll by.
Be always ready to support old C. H. S.

May fortune smile upon her as the years roll by.
Keep her name on the roll of honor, old Catawissa High

Lift up your voices loud, clear and strong.
With three cheers for High School, loud and long. Praise your
Alma Mater with this song.
May we all cherish her as the years roll by.
Be always ready to support old C. H. S.

Foreword

The Class of 1962 takes great pleasure in presenting to you in this volume a pictorial and written account of the memories of events which have taken place throughout this school year as the seventy-eighth and final class of Catawissa High School is graduated.

With this edition, we would like to pay tribute to all the gay and memorable moments enjoyed at old C. H. S. It is our fondest hope that you will receive this 1962 Catatler and cherish it forever as Catawissa High School ends its reign with a triumphant farewell.

DEDICATED TO . . .

Gerald C. Hartman

Since 1942, some twenty years ago, you have served faithfully as the principal of the Catawissa High School. When you weren't solving school problems, you were busy teaching us the oui's in French or the non's in Latin. We've surely appreciated your leadership in the many organizations here at school. Advising the Student Council, the F.T.A., the Senior and Junior Honor Societies are only a few contributions to be mentioned. You have always been available to lead our assemblies, direct a play, hold a special meeting, or to just listen and advise.

For giving us so much of your time, patience, and understanding, we, the Class of 1962, present to you, Mr. Hartman, friend, advisor, master-teacher, and principal of Catawissa High School, a lasting token of our love, appreciation, and gratitude . . . the final Catatler from your school, C. H. S.

Mr. Atherton and his crew.

Principal's Message

Dear Class of 1962,

Recently I had the pleasure of revisiting the United Nations in New York City, and in the lobby of that beautiful building there is a Foucault pendulum—a device for showing the rotation of the earth. The following message from Queen Juliana has been inscribed on the shaft of this gift from the Netherlands: "It is a privilege to live this day and tomorrow." The quotation summarizes my feelings about your class and the yearbook which you are publishing.

To have been principal of C.H.S. twenty years (the record for our school) has been rewarding and challenging. I have known most of you from the time of your birth and have been your disciplinarian, your guide, and one of your teachers.

It is a source of pride for you to publish this fine volume of the Catatler, but I regret that you will not be part of "tomorrow". A thrilling experience is awaiting the students who will enroll in our new school. You will be denied this educational thrill. So I say you are both blessed and, at the same time, underprivileged.

Although you will no longer be part of the educational system of our community—for each, it is my sincere wish that you will find it a privilege to live your "tomorrow." If such be the case, may you rejoice in the contributions to society that you will be making each day and each year.

My heartiest congratulations to you.

Sincerely yours,

G. C. Hartman

Without the patience and perseverance of you, our teachers, we would be neither ready nor able to meet and handle the situations which will confront us after graduation. Not only did you teach us from books, but you also gave us lasting knowledge with which to face the turmoil of everyday life. If we had not received the teaching, devotion, help, and guidance of you teachers, the proud record of our school could not have been achieved.

For these and many other things, we, the graduating seniors, wish to thank you as both teachers and friends.

Class History

The class of 1962 will go down in the history of Catawissa High School as the last to graduate from our old ivy-covered structure.

We entered first grade in September 1950 with thirty-one pupils in our class. Seventeen of the original thirty-one remain. They are: Jim Artley, Tom Bauman, Jim Creasy, Sally Fleming, David Fox, Judy Lewis, Connie Long, John Miller, Jere Motto, Nancy Richards, Dave Trout, Bob Savage, Margaret Shoup, Bob Snyder, Betty Swank, Susann Wagner, and Bonnie Wolfgang.

Sixth grade was the most active of our elementary years. It was during this year that we presented the cantata, "Hiawatha," with the fourth and fifth grades. Miss Jeannette Mensch encouraged us in our reading by forming a book club. We also studied the countries of South America and had charge of the safety patrol program.

Seventh grade was our first year in high school and its various activities. At this time we added the following five members to our class: Cookie Doraski, Kathy Fox, Jack Keller, Donna Kitchen, and Don Troy. For Education Week we presented the play, "The Three Royal R's," in assembly. Our homeroom teachers for seventh grade were Mrs. Mary Ruth Lauck and Mr. John Lantz.

As sophomores, we sold Easter candy for a class project. This year the sophomore girls played and beat the freshman girls in field hockey. As juniors, our girls beat the seniors at both hockey and basketball. In their senior year our female classmates again beat the juniors at field hockey to emerge the undefeated champions at C.H.S.

Our junior year will be forever engraved upon our memories of C.H.S. It included a long-anticipated moment — the ordering of our class rings. We presented our first class play entitled "The Solid Gold Cadillac" under the direction of Miss Loie Bickert. The two most memorable experiences were our train trip to Philadelphia and the Junior-Senior Prom. The theme of our prom was, "Paris in the Spring"; its completion was as rewarding as it was spectacular.

Finally, the inevitable happened. We were seniors! Our first venture was the publication of the Catatler. To make money for our class, we sold peanuts and had charge of the refreshments at basketball games. As the month of April ushers in spring, the Junior-Senior Prom ushered in our graduation activities. Class night and Baccalaureate preceded our Commencement.

During our twelve years in search of knowledge, some classmates have left us. Those that remain, together with those that joined us, have reached the pinnacle. Some will go forward to higher goals, but the memory of these years in which we achieved the foundation of our future will be cherished forever.

The Solid Gold Cadillac

Our junior class play was entitled "The Solid Gold Cadillac." It is the story of Ed McKeever—a multi-millionaire who gave up his position as head of General Products, Inc. to accept employment in Washington. The men left in charge of the corporation almost ruined it until a little old lady, (Mrs. Partridge), came to a stockholders' meeting and suggested some unusual changes. Hoping to divert Mrs. Partridge's attention from her suggestions, the directors offered to give her employment in the field of public relations. However, her friendly correspondence with stockholders complicated matters for the directors. The business was finally saved by the return of McKeever.

The 1962 edition of the Catatler will long be remembered as the final annual to be published by a senior class of Catawissa High School. We are sure it will hold a sentimental value in our hearts forever.

This task was begun with the opening of the 1961 school year and was carried on until January, 1962. Throughout this time the articles were assigned and written, the pictures were taken, the ideas collected, and the ads solicited.

This could only have been completed with the fine leadership we received from our faithful advisor, Mrs. Arnold, and the keen cooperation of the teachers and student body. As the dummy book began to take shape a sense of satisfaction seemed to fill the air. And now, as we gaze upon our finished product, we hope to share the pleasure and memories within this book, the last Catatler of Catawissa High.

"The Eiffel Tower"

"Paris In The Spring"

"Dining in the enchanting sidewalk cafes."

As our Junior Prom we presented to the Seniors "Paris in the Spring." The main focal point was a replica of the Eiffel Tower which stood in the center of the gymnasium. Sidewalk cafes, with gaily striped awnings, lined the sides of the room. Blossoming trees and carts filled with flowers added a finishing touch to our Parisian night

"Dancing 'neath the Paris skies."

May Queen and Court

May Day, a long remembered festival, was very outstanding and beautiful since it honored our last May Queen to be crowned from the Catawissa High School.

All eyes were on the attractively dressed girls proceeding toward the stage as the band played the Coronation March. The Maid of Honor, Connie Long, was followed by four flower girls and the crown bearer. Finally came the long-awaited moment. The May Queen, Nancy Sponenberg, dressed in a white gown, began to march slowly toward her throne.

The crown of white flowers was placed on her dark curls by Jack Keller, class president, as many cameras flashed from the floor of the gymnasium.

Juniors, at last! And more responsibility than ever. We have some members represented in most of the extra-curricular activities. There are seven of us in the band, seven girls are majorettes, and five are senior cheerleaders. Many students in our class have become members of the National Honor Society. This year our class produced the play, "Tammy Tell Me True." Each year the junior class is responsible for planning a prom in honor of the seniors. We tried to make it spectacular since it was the last one for Catawissa High School. Our senior year in high school is to be spent in the new Southern Area Joint High School. This year our officers are: president, Terry Sharrow; vice-president, Jay Keller; secretary, Jane Troy; treasurer, Robin Leinbach.

We would like to take this opportunity to congratulate the seniors and to wish them the very best of luck.

Upon entering senior high school, we have taken a big step in deciding our electives which will, in part, determine our future careers. We are well represented in sports and other school activities. We were honored again with the nomination of members for the Junior National Honor Society. Our class officers are: president, Max Creasy; vice-president, John Eveland; secretary, Marianne Kreisher; treasurer, Lynda Lutz. Our representatives to Student Council are David Forney and Jane Hartman.

We are freshmen! We have now taken one more step toward higher learning. The freshman class consists of twenty-four boys and twenty-one girls. Now eleven boys have put to use their skills in sports, and we are represented in other organizations. We are proud to say that ten of our members have been nominated to the Junior National Honor Society. Our officers for this year are: president, Fred Long; vice-president, Randy Whitenight; secretary, Debra Lynch; treasurer, Bill Hoffner; boy representative to Student Council, Rodney Cherrington; girl representative, Deborah Rhawn.

Now that we have taken another step in our education, we are learning more and more. We have nine members that play in the band, and two of our girls are cheerleaders. We were honored by having five members nominated for the Junior Honor Society. Our home rooms are divided and we have separate officers. They are: boys—president, Doyle Breech; vice-president, Robert Rupp; secretary-treasurer, Joel Pretz. Girls—president, Joanne Karnes; vice-president, Monna Snyder; secretary; Cheryl Miller; treasurer, Kathy Stewart. Our girl representative to Student Council is Jackie Brokenshire and our boy representative is John Levan.

At last our regiment has reached seventh grade! Our class is indeed a regiment being composed of fifty-five members. As yet we haven't had a chance to participate in many activities, but we have four starting members in the band. Since our boys and girls are in separate home rooms, we have officers representing both groups. They are: Boys—president, Keith Dalious; vice-president, Charles Creasy; secretary-treasurer, Michael Yeager. Girls—president, Jane Roeder; vice-president, Judy Shultz; secretary, Debbie Smith; treasurer, Phyllis Snyder. Our girl representative to Student Council is Barbara Swank, and our boy representative is Rodney Bickert.

Opportunity Class

For five years now the Intermediate Opportunity Class which is part of the Catawissa School System has met in the Masonic Building.

In the morning, Mrs. Evert directs the students in the study of academic subjects. Much of the afternoon is devoted to arts and crafts. To participate in Mr. Nesbitt's physical education classes, the students come to the high school.

National Honor Society

The Ducemus Chapter of the National Honor Society this year rose to a new height in presenting C.H.S. with a praise-worthy organization. Strengthening the traits of character, leadership, service, and scholarship, the members deserves the praise of the C.H.S. pupils and faculty.

Expertly advised by Mr. Hartman and wisely led by an all-senior staff of officers, the Senior Honor Society has become among the prominent clubs of the school. The society inducted four new members early in the year.

Membership is restricted to students with above-average grades, ideals, and morals. Members of the society reflect the leadership and character typical of America's heritage.

Junior Honor Society

The Catabo Chapter of the National Honor Society is the junior partner to the Ducemus Chapter. This chapter consists of students in seventh, eighth, ninth, and tenth grades. However, it is almost a year before any seventh grader may be evaluated, then voted upon by faculty, and finally, by the students in the society.

Membership is based upon citizenship, leadership, character and scholarship. Students must maintain a high average. If a student's average falls too much, he may be dismissed and is never eligible to join again. Each student must have spent at least one semester at Catawissa High School.

The Student Council of Catawissa High School is an active group composed of a boy and girl representative and the president and vice-president from each class in high school. Under the supervision of Mr. Hartman, the council sold paperback books, held monthly locker inspections, ordered movies to be shown at the end of each marking period, collected money for these movies, and sponsored a dance.

The Future Teachers of America is showing great progress in the purpose for which it was organized: to guide students to an understanding of teaching as a career. Monthly meetings, held in the school library, are presided over by Connie Long, the president. Students from grades ten through twelve participate in discussions and the varied activities planned by the group.

The advisor, Mr. Hartman, spends much time in helping to make the organization a success.

The Varsity Club, completing its nineteenth and final year, has experienced, as usual, two highly successful and rewarding semesters. This diligent organization was under the sports-minded leadership of Jere Motto and the guidance of Coach Charles Nesbitt.

The club promoted a very successful campaign in selling Christmas candy. The members sold various novelty items and sweat-shirts to help meet the clubs financial needs. The club bought blazers for the graduating senior cheerleaders and also purchased blazers for the junior girls composing the cheering squad. The club presented the senior boys their full-length jackets. The athletic junior boys also received their jackets this year.

This final year the club certainly has fulfilled its goal—to fuse the soccer, basketball, and baseball players, the senior and junior cheerleaders, the scorekeepers, and the managers into one active and worthwhile club.

The Catawese Legend

The Catawese Legend has achieved a very high state-wide standard and has been a great credit to Catawissa High School since its first year of publication, twenty-five years ago.

This year the staff was composed of twenty-five cooperative students from seventh through twelfth grades. Mrs. Janet W. Engelhardt, the advisor, gave willingly of her talents and her time, and much success was dependent on her.

During the year, there were six editions published. Even greater interest was aroused by having a separate gossip sheet as a regular feature. More than one hundred students and patrons subscribed to the Legend this year.

The twirlers of the band consist of twenty girls. Seven of them compose the band front while nine girls, led by Sally Fleming, are the main twirling group.

The junior girls look well in their black uniforms trimmed in gold. In contrast the senior twirlers wear gold uniforms trimmed in black.

This active group participated in summer band jobs with original twirling routines and tricky novelties such as: Hopack, Hand Me Down My Swinging Cane, and Whirlagig, all led by Sally Fleming and Becky Smith.

Our twirlers would be an asset to any band.

Soccer

The first half of the 1961 soccer season ended on a joyful and expectant note. The Lions were undefeated! However, it was marred by a pair of draws. The second half was quite the reverse because the Lion booters had their claws banged in a bit and ended in third place with three victories, three defeats, and two ties.

Seniors of what will probably be the last Catawissa High School soccer team are: John Miller, Bob Snyder, Jim Creasy, Jere Motto, and Jack Keller.

Baseball

The 1961 edition of the Lion baseballers ran into some stormy weather. They compiled a two and five league log. This record left plenty of room for the expected improvement in '62. This expectation is because of the fact that seven lettermen are returning.

Seniors playing their final season for C.H.S. are: Tom Bauman, Jack Keller, Jere Motto, Bob Snyder, and Don Troy.

The 1960-61 apprentice Lions made their basketball all savey well known as they fought their way through an impressive season. The final tally was eight wins and six setbacks. With Tom Bauman, John Billig, and Terry Sharrow being moved to varsity it looks as if this may be that elusive "next year", despite the lack of seven footers.

The junior high program last year prepared quite a few boys for this year's J. V. squad.

Varsity Basketball

The 1960-61 season was a discouraging one for the roundball dribblers of C.H.S. The larger schools in the league were just too much for the punchless Lions. Game after game a brilliant first quarter would be followed by an exceptionally disappointing three quarters. The potential was there, but it seemed everybody picked a different night to fulfill his. The 60-61 Lions left plenty of room for improvement as they ended with a three and eleven log.

Coach Nesbitt has three boys who will be playing their last year of ball. They are Tom Bauman, Jere Motto, John Miller, and Jack Keller.

Cheerleaders

Red and black plaid kilts skirts, black vests, white long-sleeved blouses, black knee socks, and red shoes, were the garb of the Varsity cheerleaders. The outfits, made by the cheerleaders, under Mrs. Hartman's supervision, added color and distinction to the games. The girls were skillful in presenting new cheers and in securing crowd response.

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders, under the leadership of Kathleen Getkin, looked very sharp in their red vests and black skirts. Being a hardworking and ambitious group, these six girls succeeded in having a very active squad with peppy cheers.
